The daughter-in-law, Miss Gordon, of Clarence Taylor of Glenora District, stated that her mother was an Ellerbeck.

When I spoke of the Ellerbeck Cemetery on Centre
 Street, Kingston, she called her mother, who said that they were now in Cataragui Cemetery. If the bodies were reburied was not known.

They were

Emanuel Ellerbeck, died in 1809

Susannah, his wife, died in 1834

William Ellerbeck, died in 1816 (a son?)

Hannah, his wife, died in 1798

TAYLOR-ELLERBECK

Memoranda

Beth Eves, the wife of Stephen Mackinnon was daughter of an Ellerbeck:

Emmanuel Ellerbeck

Emmanuel Ellerbeck (Elderbec or Elleorbeck), a militia lieutenant from Poughkeepsie, New York. He came from England to America in 1774. In 1776 - 7 he was goaled and got free by inlisting in the rebel army. He then deserted and joined the British, serving with the New York volunteers. He apparently claimed to have been employed on secret service.

He received lot 21 in the first concession at Cataraqui. Emmanuel occupied the lot on which St. Mary's - on - the - Lake Hospital is now located and he and his family were buried under, or close to, the new wing of the institution.

From the Archives of St. Georges' Cathedral, Kingston Vestry Book 1781 - 1800 it is documented that Emmanuel was employed on June 13, 1795 to erect the Gallery of St. Georges' Church.

Emmanuel apparently married but his wife's name is not known. He did have one son Richard who was born on December 8, 1783 in Poughkeepsie N.Y. Richard came to Kingston with his father in 1784 . He married Hannah Pierson on September 9, 1813. Hannah was born in Elizabethtown New York on February 6, 1795. Richard died Sept. 17, 1862 at Point Stanley. Hannah died Nov. 21, 1880 at Glenvale.
